Information Regarding Records Requests:

We may ask you to put your request in writing, and we may ask for further information. If so, it is only to assist us in expediting the processing of your request or to better understand exactly what is being requested. (For example, we will need your address if you requested the copies to be mailed to you.) Domestic Relations records often contain sensitive information, and we will require proof of identity to determine whether you are a party on the case for us to provide un-redacted copies of documents that contain such sensitive information. Otherwise, you are not required to provide any information about yourself nor the reason for your request. (ORC §149.43)
